and the Suffering the Innocent Gustavo Gutierrez Matthew O'connell Books

Catholic Book Award Winner!

One of the century's most eminent theologians addresses the eternal questions of the relationship of good and evil, bringing the story of Job to the heart of the pain and oppression of our world.

"Gustavo, brilliant, penetrating. This study brings us closer to Job and to our world." —The World Council of Churches

"Gustavo Gutierrez's theological reflections on the Book of Job focus on the holy book of Job's suffering. He presents a reading that can be read about Job, about a God of Justice. In the face of the suffering of the innocent (the Job), Gutierrez leads us to the heart of the mystery of God's love for the world." —Benedictine Bookshop, General Evangelical Theological Seminary

"Gustavo's thoughtful engagement with biblical scholarship on the Book of Job, not merely joins the single authors of the biblical text with the historical authority of the scriptural canon, but rather opens a new way of reading the text." —Robert S. Gagnoli, New York Times Book Review

"There is dramatic proof of how much we need to approach 'The View from Below' (Gustavo Gutierrez) from the end of Job, which he reads as the end of the world (a thought with which it has been hidden from us by the book we have brought after ourselves, to the neglect of the text). Therefore we need to read from the perspective of how to talk about Job." —Robert B. Stein, Pacific School of Religion

"Dr. Job is a book of Job, a creative commentary rooted in the doctrine and mystery of Christ and the Kingdom of God. Gustavo's reading is truly representative of the work of Gustavo Gutierrez." —Robert S. Gagnoli, New York Times Book Review

"Gustavo has a sensitivity toward the Book of Job from a contemporary perspective in its study of Job's suffering and its meaning. It is a reading that opens up to us an experience of the suffering of the innocent (Job) and its implications in the experience of Job, which is also understood by God himself. Gustavo has indicated a service to authors and to readers alike."

—David Noel Freedman, General Editor, The Anchor Bible
